

WELSH CUP 2011/2012

The triples are now completed and eight teams now play knockout to decide the trophy. As well as the seeded team that was exempted to round 2, three more teams have been seeded, based on Gold Points. The draw has been made so as to keep seeds in separate quarters, and to avoid North v. South matches in round 2. This is the full draw – there will not be a new draw for the semi-final.

The first team is at home in each match.

Round 2 to be played by 26th March 2012 32 board matches	Semi Final should be played by 7th May 2012 48 boards	The Final (now unlikely to be played at the Seniors' Congress) 64 boards

Notes on the format:

The table above was the draw for the first round of the Welsh Cup. The draw was made regionally as far as possible – to achieve triples, the Mid-Wales team was drawn with the North, and one West team was drawn with the East.

There are 19 entries. One team has been seeded (by looking at gold point holdings) through into round two. The other 18 teams have been drawn into six ‘triples’, from which the winners of each triple and the best second-placed team will qualify for round two. The eight teams left at that stage will play knockout matches to decide the eventual winners.

In each triple, each team plays a 32-board match against each of the other two teams. If one team wins two matches, they win the group. If a team loses both matches they are bottom of the group. Otherwise group position is decided by aggregate IMPs. The winner of each group always proceeds to round two, and the bottom team is always eliminated.

The second-placed team with the highest net IMP score will also proceed. To ensure the fairness of this comparison, teams are expected to play the whole 32 boards in each triple match, using groups of 8 boards. To ensure there is still something to play for, each 8 board stanza will have ¼ green point at stake, rather than having a point for winning the match.

Within each triple, the first team listed is at home when playing the second team, the second is at home when playing the third and the third is at home when playing the first. Entry fees will be cancelled for teams that do not reach round 2.

Please try very hard to complete your triple matches by the end of January 2012. When matches in round one are largely complete, a new regional draw will be made, probably with some extra seeding.

All players must be members of the WBU. Up to a maximum of 6 players in a team, extra players who have not played in the event may be added at any time, but notification before they play must be received as explained in the Journal.

Address queries and send results to me, Mike Tedd, preferably by email to mike.tedd@aber.ac.uk, by telephone 01970 611518 or by post to Llys Blodau, Iorwerth Ave, Aberystwyth SY23 1EW.

Make sure that you send the result of each 8-board stanza as well as the overall result, and for teams of more than four, make clear who played in the match (and in each stanza if more than four play in the match).

For your interest, the draw for Welsh and Cambria Cups is done by sending just the team numbers to someone else for randomising (consistent with regionalisation).
